Onto And Mississiper—[12 minutes slower than City time,] 4:25 A. M. and 5:35 P. M. Louisville race was largely attended, but the betting was small. Friday's New York Sun gives this account of the trot: Accommodation, 2 P. M. Louisville Indianapolis and Christnavi Short-Line-[12 ninutes slower than City time,] 5:40 A. M., 11:50 L. M. and 6 P. M.

Before the trot yesterday, betting stood at even, and, in some few instances, slight odds on the borse. At near half-past four o'clock the Judge's bell called the horses to the course, "Flora" looked sore and unsteady, and from the time of her appearance on the score, her success was generally doubted. The betting, however, was very slight. Half a dozen false starts were made, and then an excellent word was obtained. "Flora" was at the start slightly in the lead, but immediately after passing the stand, broke upbadly. Her driver soon succeeded in getting her down to ber usual gait, and at the quarter post she was a head in the lead "Patchen's" speed new became apparent, and on the back stretch to the half mile, gained a length on the mare. The mare once more Before the trot yesterday, betting stood a length on the mare. The mare once more checked her speed, and almost before the eye could distinguish the change, "Patchen" was two lengths in advance. On the lower quarter, the trot became very exciting "Flora" seeming to strive, with might and main, to retrieve her loss, but the stallion main, to retrieve her loss, but the stallion kept his lead, and the same position was keptround the turn and up the home stretch. The excitement became very great, and the crowd being kept well off the track, a finfield was presented for the strife. When only a few rods from the judge's stand, the mare again broke up badly, and "Patchen" passed the stand fully three lengths ahead. Time 2234. CINCINNATI, RICHMOND AND INDIANAPOLIS-7:45. M., 1 P. the stand fully three lengths ahead. Time 2.23%.

Betting now rose to fifty and even sixty on "Patchen" to forty on "Flora." The usual time for grooming having been allowed, the horses were called up. "Patchen" very slow in coming, and three false starts were made—the word was given on the fourth start, "Flora" a neck ahead. Immediately after getting the word, "Flora" brushed ahead, and crossed the horse at the first turning, taking the inside track. "Patchen" broke up and the mare gained a lead of over three lengths before reaching the quarter-post. This was soon increased to four lengths, but "Patchen" pushing to his full speed, recovered one of the four at the half mile, and at the lower turn to the home stretch was within a length of "Flora." At the entrance to the home-stretch "Patchen" lapped, and up to the distance-stand promised well to pass the mare. Here, however, he broke, and The income of Henry Ward Beecher's church, the present year, from pew rent alone, will reach $30,000. The suspension bridge at Wheeling, Va., is finished. to the home-stretch "Patchen" lapped, and up to the distance-stand promised well to pass the mare. Here, however, he broke, and "Flora" shot rapidly ahead, passing the judges'-stand fully three lengths in the lead time 2:22½. Betting was very scarce, what there was, was standing at even and the monotony of the twenty minutes' grooming was relieved by a couple of fights. The friends of "Flora" were enthusiastic in praise of their favorite, and induged their feelings with a hearty outbreak of cheers.

Third Heat—An excellent start was obtained, on the first trial, "Patchen" leading about a head. To the first turn "Flora gained a full length, and this was kept increasing round to the half mile, when it was three lengths, "Patchen" began gaining rapidly at this point, and on the third quarter seemed likely to catch the mare. At the entrance to the home-stretch, the distance between the horses was but about half a length; but here "Patchen" broke up and the mare keeping an even gait, passed the indees' stand six lengths in advance. Time mare keeping on even gait, passed the judges stand six lengths in advance. Time 2:23.

Again the most excited shouts rent th air, and "Flora" was led off in triumph. air, and "Flora" was fed off in triumph. A man who was caught picking apocket, was arrested during this interval, and carried off to Jamaica. Betting was very scarce, but heavy odds were offered on the mare.

Fourth Heat—One false start only was made, and then both horses coming up well together, the word was sounded. The horse was about a head in the lead at the start, and before reaching the first turn was a length came up and placed a gap of two lengths be-tween her competitor and herself. This was accomplished on the entrance to the second quarter, and the same relative positions of quarter, and the same relative positions of the horses were kept until they reached the middle of the third quarter at the lower end of the course. Here "Patchen" began closing up, and, at the entrance to the home stretch, they seemed almost even. The same gait was held more than half way up the stretch, when "Patchen" dropped alightly behind, and, as the horses passed the judge's stand, "Flora" led by not quite half a length. Time, 1:25%.

The telegraph has already mentioned the explosion of the steamship La Crosse in the Thursday's Picayune of the latter city has these particulars:

The explosion was quite sudden, and its cause remains unexplained. The second en-gineer, Mr. Pell, who was badly injured, states that at the time of the accident there was only sixty pounds pressure and four gauges of water. The first engineer, Mr. Roque, had just left Mr. Pell in the engineer own when the terrific explosion took place. It tore up the timbers, and the boat immediately filled and sunk by her stern, her bow camaining above water.

It tore up the timbers, and the boat immediately filled and sunk by her stern, her bow remaining above water.

The boilers of the boat had been undergoing repairs for the past ten days, and, after the repairs were completed, had been tested with seventy-five pounds pressure. The La Crosse was about two years old, and had been running on the St. Lawrence. Her original cost was $60,000. She was formerly owned in New York by Chas. Congreve & Son, and was purchased and brought out here a few months ago by the Texas and New Orleans Railroad Company, for the purpose of transmitting their railroad material to Texas. She was to take her place in the Sabine Pass and Berwick's Bay line, when the railroad would have been completed from Houston to Sabine River. She was insured, we are informed, in this city for $17,000, the risk being divided between different companies.

We give the list of saved and killed, as nearly complete. She was reported to have in all twenty-eight persons on board.

Killed or Mussing—Capt. R. B. Davis, (Capt. Davis was a native of New Haven, Conn., and well known as an able officer); Charles Williams, purser; died after being taken ashore, from contusions received; Andrew Roque, first engineer; James Martin and John Wins, deck-hands, the cook, the steward and the carpenter, names unknown. Peter Low is reported by some as saved, and by others as missing. He is a lad of eighten years, deaf and dumb. The other four passengers were laborers bound for the railroad. The Dog-Kept Drover.—A writer in an exchange says: "I know a shaggy black dog who keeps a drover. He is a dog of an easy disposition, and too frequently allows this drover to got drunk. On these occasions it is the dog's custom to sit outside the public bouse, keeping his eye on a sheep, and thinking. If I could at any time have doubted the fact that it was he who kept the drover, and not the drover who kept him, it would have been abundantly proved by his way of taking undivided charger of the six sheep, when the drover came out besmeared with red other and beer, and gave him the wrong directions, which he calmly disregarded. He has taken the sheep entirely into his own hands; has merely remarked with respectful firmness, 'That instruction would place them framess. That instruction would place them under an omnibus; you had better confine your attention to yourself—you will want it all; and has driven his charge away with an intelligence of ears and tail, and a knowledge of business, that has left his lout of a man very, very far behind."

WOMEN AND THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE. Women never have been, and never will be, debarred from practicing medicine openly or on the sly. It is so natural to them, and so irresistable while they live in families and have the charge of the sick, that no remonstrance or ridicule has ever availed to put a stop to female quacking. The best informed and most rational physicians have always seen, and the most courageous of them have always said, from that day to this, that the only cure is in making physicians of some well qualified women, who alone can ronvince their sex of the scriousness of medical prac-tice, and the infinite mischief of meddling with the delicate organization of the human frame without all the knowledge that can be obtained of the structure and action of its various parts. The time has arrived for this reform to begin.—Harriet Martineau, in Once a Week.

ADAH ISAAC MENERS'S FUTURE INTENTION RESPECTING THE BENICIA BOY .- The New York correspondent of the Charleston Courie

Mrs. Adah Isaac Menken Heenan is nov in the city, quietly awaiting the recognition of her "husband and lord," J. C. Heenan, the champion. We will now test the truth of the gossip respecting the marriage of the Benicia Boy. Thus far he has held back and sought no interview with his Adab. She says that if he does not come out like a man says that if he does not come out his a man and take her to his bosom and his home, she will publish in the Sunday papers all the tender love letters he wrote her in the days of their billing and cooing. These would make racy reading, and great is the compet-tion among the Sunday sheets to obtain these sweet morsels. Heenan takes the matter as a good loke on a held subject. a good loke on a bad subject.

A CARREESS COACH-DRIVER CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER.—At the Wexford (Ireland) MANSLAUGHTER.—At the Wexford (Ireland) assizes, George Critchey, the driver of the mail-coach, was tried and convicted of the manslaughter of Mrs. Anne Whitney, who was thrown off a car, on which she had been sitting, and killed on the spot, by the coach coming into collision with the vehicle, owing to the reckless driving of the prisoner. On handing in their verdict of "Guilty," the jury accompanied it with a recommendation to mercy, but when interrogated by Mr. Justice O'Brien, as to the grounds upon which they based it, one of them stated that it was because they were of opinion that the death of the decessed might have been accidental! fore, a matter of almost absolute necessity.

The improvements in progress embrace, beside the new cells, a dining-hall, kitchen, chapiel and work-shops. One of the latter, to be occupied by Messrs. Hall & Agers for the manufacture of felloes, spokes, subs, &c., is, since building, about 400 feet long, and has in it a steam engine of 125 horse-power.

The female department, which belongs to the improvements recently made, contains sixteen inmates. Under the superintendence of the matron, Mrs. Milligan, it has quite an air of cleanliness and neatness which, but for the cells, would make it appear more like a pleasant home than a prison. The Judge commented upon their proceed-ings, and sent them back to reconsider their verdict. They subsequently brought in the same finding, but without the recommenda-LOVE AND LAGER-BEER-TRIBULATIONS OF LOVE AND LAGER-BERE—TRIBULATIONS OF A PARENT.—Col. J. D. Stevens has been placed in a disagreeable position in San Francisco. His step-son fell in love with a waiter girl at a lager-beer saloon, called the Melodecm, and after being intimate with her for some time, proposed to marry her. But a word on these underground cham-bers, which are now to be closed. I have often written of them, believing in the stateoften written of them, believing in the statements of honorable men, and yet at times almost incredulous of the horrors I painted. I yesterday saw some of them. Several members of the commission appointed to close them—themselves once prisoners here—accompanied me. A grated door led down to an anticamera, which was lighted only through these bars. Stone walls, stone floors—stone an anticamera, which was lighted only through these bars. Stone walls, stone floors—stone every-where, except the ground, which was covered over with burned fragments of books, that had been taken in domiciliary visits and destroyed here. "Here one breathes," said a pardoned prisoner. "but bring a light," he said to a jailor, and we descended from this twilight room into another which received the reflection of the twilight through a hole in the door. It was small and of stone—and on the right I observed a stone bed, three feet bigh from the ground, with an elevation of stone called a pillow. A door is opened and leads into another room, where no twilight, no reflected twilight, nor a ray of light or breath of air can penetrate.

"I was imprisoned here," said one of my conductors. I looked at him as if expecting to find that he was turned into a brute beast, for it was a den for a wild animal, not a chamber for a Christian man, in a country teeming with Christ's ministers, and where the Holy Apostolic Catholic religion is the only one permitted to be professed. I send you a section of the room, as thus you will perceive that in some parts a man could not stand upright, so that there he lay in Stygian darkness, without any change of air, "and on the bare ground," said my friend, "unless he was the stone parts of the room of the room of the room of the room of a will an order of the room, as thus you will perceive that in some parts a man could not stand upright, so that there he lay in Stygian darkness, without any change of air, "and on the bare ground," said my friend, "unless he perceive that in some parts a man could not stand upright, so that there he lay in Stygian darkness, without any change of air, "and on the bare ground," said my friend, "unless he could afford to pay an extortionate price for a mattress to a licensed spy and denouncer, who drove a good trade in human misery." "For God's sake let us leave this den," I said, and so we groped back into the chamber where the reflection of twilight penetrated. "Take care," cries the jailer, as I stumbled over a mountain of rotten books and papers, and now once more we are in the anticamera, which appeared a purgatory as I went down, and now wore the appearance of a paradise. On the opposite side was another criminale about eleven by five palms, where five or six persons were at times confined. High above the door was a window opening into the gloomy anticamero, and through this slone light and air were received. All was stale and dark; the smell of the prison was rendered yet more insufferable by the stench which proceeded from a large white vase just visible by the candlelight in the corner of the room. It was removed once a day. Now wark, who were the men confined in these places not fit for beasts? Not condemned criminals, no! but men arrested on suspicion and waiting for an order for their committalmen of rank and education, accustomed to the comforts of home.

A MAN ATTEMPTS TO MURDER HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN, AND THEN COMMITS SUICIDE,-The Mahoning (O.) Sentinel relates a shock ing suicide, which occurred recently in that county:

An elderly man, named John A. Spaight, had a disagreement with his wife, in part respecting a boy of hers by a former husband. During the war of words, he demonstrated a disposition to kill both the woman and boy, and actually fired his shot-gun at the former, but fortunately missed her. She ran from him, and escaped his murderous design. Upon returning to the boust, in company with others, Spaight was found in a dying condition, with the lower part of his face clown away, having shot himself through the head. In this horrible condition he lived but ten minutes, and then breathed his last, but ten minutes, and then breathed his last, without being able, from his extreme misery and pain, to give any account of himself or the affair. He was occasionally disposed to intoxication, and was supposed to have been in that state at the time of the criminal deed.

LORD BROUGHAM'S APOLOGY TO THE UNITED STATES AND HER MINISTER.—At the meeting of the Statistical Congress, on Wednesday Lord Brougham said: "I exceedingly regre Lord Brougham said: "I exceedingly regret that the observations I made on the first day have been interpreted into something disrespectful to the United States. No one who has known me will accuse me of such intention. I respect our brethren of the United States, even when I differ from them. When I called attention, in the presence of our friend, Mr. Dallas, to the, in my opinion, important statistical fact that a most respectable colored gentleman from Canada was a member of the Congress, I only called his aftention to it just as I would the attention of our excellent friend the representative of of our excellent friend the representative of the Brazils who is here to-day; and, God knows, I do not entertain the slightest disrespect for the Brazils. I ought also to have called the attention of the Count de Ripaida (the Spanish Representative) to the same (the Spanish Representative) to the same subject; they have colonies and they have persons of various colors in their possessions. I call his attention to it hereby. [Applause.]

MOST HORRIBLE DEATH .-- An accident oc Most Horrible Drath.—An accident oc curred, a few days ago, at Freeport, Fean, by which a man named Frank M Callom lost his life in a horrible manner. He was boiling salt at Mr. James's works, when by some mischance he was precipitated headforemost into the cistern of boiling salt water. He succeeded in crawling out, but there being no one near to assist him, he unfortunately fell back again into the scalding brine. Notwithstanding this second and terrible mishap, he got out without assistance and walked to his home. He was actually flayed alive, and after suffering unknown tortures, at last found ease in death, twenty-four hours after the accident.

Successe of the Scriptures in Burnan.—
The Mission of the American Baptist Union among the Kareens in Burman, has a wonderful history. Only thirty years ago the first convert was baptised, and now the number of church members is over 15,000 and the natives under regular Christian instruction amount to more than 100,000. The station at Toungoo was commenced seven years ago, by a native preacher, and in two years there numbered in that place 2,000 converts. Prosperity still attends it.

VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT IN WATCHES. Among the patents just issued is one to an inventor of Washington City, for an improvement in watches. By this invention watches and other time-keepers are made permanently and completely air-tight and duat-excluding, and consequently will never need cleaning. The outside cases can be thrown open, and the watch laid in water for days without any moisture penetrating to the movement. moisture penetrating to the movements.

Zinc Paint Works.—At the sinc paint works near Bethlebens, Pa., some thirty or forty furnaces are in operation. The xinc ore yields forty per cent of metal. This being subjected to an incandescent heat, the pure sinc ascends, in vacuo, in the form of a tiery vapon, smoke, and gas, and after passing through great pipes and receivers, it falls like a snow-shower as a white powder, which is the dry and perfect material for paint.

A Few Strong Inconvenience.—The New York Evening Pest thus sums up the "inconveniences" of the recent trip of the Great Eastern to Cape May: "Few bods, little water, short commons, no wast-basins and an utter want of discipline—are the universal complaints."

The Prince of Water in Cavada.

FREDERICKYON, August 4.—To-day has been the most delightful yet experienced by the Prince since his arrival. The boat ran up the St. John River, through the most beautiful scenery, and with a fertile country on either side. There were groups of people in boats, on wharves, on every projection, and even in the church-steeples, who displayed flags with royal mottoes, rang bella, fired muskets and cheered. The Prince directed the cheers to be answered by the steamwhistle and by the band. The Prince lunched on board with the Governor and saite, Gen. Trollope and suite, and several members of the Government, Legislature and Council, and the Mayors of Halifax, Boston and Montreal. He arrived at Frederickton at six P. The Prince of Walce in Cauada

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION OF A KEG OF POW-TERRIBLE EXPLOSION OF A KEG OF POWDER — TWENTY-FIVE OR THINTY PERSONS WOUNDED—EIGHT OF THE SERIOUSLY.—On Thursday afternoon some twenty-five or thirty Irish laborers, employed by Mr. Murray, contractor, in digging a canal or basin in the swamp, some distance above the Jackson Railroad Depot, in New Orleans, were sitting down in a cluster, smoking their after-dinner pipes. The conversation turned upon a keg of powder, or a keg nearly filled with powder, which had lately been dampened by the rain. As they talked about it, a young man, who is step-son of the contractor, remarked that the powder was too wet to burf, and, by way of Illustration, applied a

It exploded with fearful effect, scorching nearly every man in the party, and badly wounding some eight or ten. The crasy young fellow who tried the experiment was terribly burned; John Kennedy, James Harrington and Wur. Buckley were taken to the Charity Hospital, fearfully disfigured, and Buckley not expected to live. Others, who were badly burned, were taken to their homes.

A DEFORMED NEGRO PRODICY .- In Lexing A DEFORMED ARGRO PRODUCY—in Lexing-ton, Ky, there lives a singularly-deformed negro, twenty-one years of age, three feet six inches high, who drags himself on crutches, but whose majesty of intellect a really mar-vellous. A letter from an intelligent neigh-bor says he is a living miracle of intelligences, has taught himself to read, write and cipher, has learned algebra by himself. A kind friend assisted him in trigonometry and calculation of celipses, and now he thirsts after knowledge. He now desires to study Breaster's Optics, to make himself a telescope, and know how to grind his own glasses, and no doubt will succeed if perseverance will accomplish any thing.

MARING MEDICINE PALATARIE.—A doctor in Philadelphia has been experimenting upon the practicability of relieving medicines from their nauscone taste, and thinks that most of them can be made palatable without interfaring with their valuable properties. We are not sure, says the Providence (R. I.) Journal, that this is desirable. The tendency to take medicine is naturally quite strong enough, and every bedy will be dosing, if drags are deprived of the protection which nature has given to us in the nauseousness of their taste.
